WHY ENDURE SUMMER COLDS?
It isn't necessary to have a stuffed head, running nose. To cough your head off as it were. All you need do is to use Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey. The soothing and healing balsams open the clogged air passages and in a short time you get relief and start on the road to recovery. Your nose stops running, you cough less and you know you are getting better. Get a bottle, use as directed. Keep what is left as a cough and cold insurance. (Advertisement)

Gilchrist Bld. Punta Gorda.

It Looked Suspicious.

"As I was coming out of a store this evening I saw an amusing sight," said a shopper. "A light rain was falling, and as the woman in front of me stepped out she opened her umbrella. Out of it fell a jeweled hatpin, a pair of gloves and two men's handkerchiefs. On its face it seemed like a case of shoplifting, but as she gathered up the articles the woman said: 'Well, if here isn't Mary's emerald hatpin and the gloves I was looking for last week and two of George's best handkerchiefs. I never thought of looking in the umbrellas for them.'—New York Sun.

The True Education.

A boy or girl who loves a beautiful picture, a sunset, a rosebush, a robin, a sky full of stars, a fine old melody, a courtesy, a generous deed and a good book is better educated than a boy or girl could be without them even if he could work all the sums in algebra and parse everything in Vergil. Parents and educators should give more heed to this view of education, for it is the phase of it that makes life true.—Ohio State Journal.

Hollow Land.

The Dutch people occupy a country which contains 12,000 square miles—little more than one-tenth of the size of Great Britain and Ireland, the population being just over 6,000,000. Holland is not only flat, it is hollow; hence its name, "Hollowland." Along the canals the meadows are ten or twelve feet, sometimes more, beneath the water line. By the sea, at high tide, there may be a difference in the level of the soil and of the ocean of quite twenty-five feet or more.—London Globe.
